

WESTERN LIBERAL.

LORDSBURG, OCTOBER 11, 1895.

Wm. Bradford was in the city on Wednesday.

Mr. R. P. Hart left Monday afternoon for Silver City.

The railroad carpenter gang has been in town this week.

The circus train passed through the city Saturday night without stopping to give an exhibition.

W. B. Kelley, of the Solomonville Bulletin, was in the city yesterday, returning home from Clifton.

The Gila river has been very high and both the Globe and the Phoenix railroads have been badly washed out.

Trice's Plantation company gave an entertainment at the Hall Saturday night that was enjoyed by a good sized audience.

Rev. E. F. Goodson, the new minister in charge of the Gila river circuit, was in the city yesterday, en route to the river.

The Rev. Edward S. Cross, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd of Silver City, will preach in Lordsburg next Sunday.

There will be an examination of applicants for teachers' certificates at the Silver City school house on Saturday, October 12.

Elsewhere in this issue there appears the statement of the First National bank of El Paso, which is, as always, in an excellent financial shape.

The latest quotations are: Silver, 150.00; copper, 12.00; lead, 10.00; smelter price, 3.15; New York open market, 3.30 to 3.35.

Judge Boone was up from Deming yesterday to draw up the papers transferring the McWhirt ranch in the San Simon valley to the San Simon cattle company.

Jake Spitz, the inventor and patentee of that famous wheel deal known as the "Jaky Spitz deal," was in the city the first of the week and made a Clifton trip.

Tax Collector Laird announces that he will be at the Eagle drug store in Lordsburg on the 22nd of this month for the purpose of receiving taxes for the coming year.

There have been several trails loads of soldiers through town the past week. A new set of "Kid-catchers" are being sent into Arizona to spend a comfortable winter.

The Headlight in its last issue announces the fact that the Hon. D. P. Carr is not an associate editor of the LIBERAL. This is both important and true, but it is not news.

James McCabe was up from the Animas the first of the week. He reports there has been no Indian news in that section since Billy Baker was so badly scared at the Grey ranch a few weeks ago.

School Superintendent Link accompanied by his wife and youngest son, were in the city Wednesday. They were out visiting the schools of the county. They reported to the LIBERAL that they found the Lordsburg school in an excellent condition.

There has been a young man in the city this week who claimed that he had strayed away from the Well-lace show. He has been giving entertainments in town, his specialties being to drive pins and needles into his body, tearing paper into fantastic shapes and drinking water and beer especially beer.

The recent change of time of the passenger trains make quite a decided change in the habits of the engineers. Formerly Messrs. Bruce and Zeigler, who run between here and Tucson, had a layover here of about three hours, and had every night at their home at Tucson, while Messrs. Wilcox and Miller, who run between here and El Paso, spent alternate nights here and at home. Now it is reversed, Wilcox and Miller have every night at home and Bruce and Zeigler spend alternate nights in Lordsburg. When the flyer is put on another engine will be put on each division and then the men will have to run only six days in the week instead of seven, as at present.

In speaking of Fred Steucke, who recently went crazy at Las Vegas, the Optic says: "J. V. Parks, a deputy sheriff from Clifton, Arizona, arrived in this city on the early morning train and starts for home this evening, with Fred Steucke, the demented man, accompanied by Charley Clay, son of the city marshal. It appears that the unfortunate man is a blacksmith by trade, although he has worked at railroad work considerably in his life. It was noticed that he acted strangely upon leaving his Arizona home, but it has leaked out only recently that he had been a patient in an insane asylum, having been released from the institution about ten years ago. Besides the cash and certificates of deposit found on his person here he had some money yet due him for services at Clifton. Mr. Park took him to Solomonville, where he will be examined and then sent to the asylum."

The LIBERAL recently announced the marriage of Rodney G. Clarke, the adjunct editor of the Headlight, and Miss Smyth Ames of Sarsaparilla town, Massachusetts. At the time the item was printed the LIBERAL had not been informed that the wedding had been celebrated. It had received an invitation, a beautiful example of the engraver's art, which will ever be kept as a souvenir of this romantic affair, and supposed, of course, that the ceremony had been performed. The ceremony never was performed. There is a romantic story back of this affair which is here first given. Last spring Mr. Clarke happened to run across a copy of the Heart and Hand, a Chicago publication devoted principally to advertisements of people who wanted to get married. Clarke looked the advertisements over and noticed that of a young lady who had half a million of dollars and wanted a husband who was handsome and intellectual. Now no one disputes Mr. Clarke's intellectuality, but it is a flight of fancy to call him handsome. Thinking he could keep his features in the background he wrote her. An interesting correspondence ensued. Clarke sent her the Headlight and told her that Jim Klineear's Fourth of July oration and the proceedings of the Nicotine club were his lucubrations. Miss Ames was delighted. She sent a certificate from the secretary of a sarsaparilla foundry showing that she owned $500,000 of its stock, and her picture and asked for his photo. Here was where Clarke made his mistake. If he had sent his own picture all would have been well, but he thought it would be better to send the picture of a really handsome man and trust to the expression of his soulful eyes to square himself when they met. So he sent a picture of the Headlight's editor-in-chief instead of his own. This photo settled it. No Massachusetts girl could refuse the original of that picture. The day for the wedding was set, the invitations were issued, the wedding cake was baked and Clarke made his appearance at the home of the bride. Then there was trouble. He could not identify himself. He put the most soulful look in his eyes and tried to explain. The prospective mother-in-law, in icy tones, asked if the Headlight's next editor, the original of the picture, was not the author of Jim Klineear's oration. The bridesmaid screamed, the bride fainted, the small brother called the dog and Clarke got out of the front gate just as Bose came around the corner of the house. Clarke immediately returned to Deming and is now trying to convince his best Deming girl, who owns no stock in a sarsaparilla foundry, that those engraved wedding invitations were meant for a joke.

Tuesday night there was a fatal shooting affray in the White House saloon at Silver City in which Charlie Cantley, the city marshal, was the victim and James S. Fielder, the well known lawyer, came out unhurt. According to the report received by the LIBERAL Mr. Fielder was sitting in the White House club room watching a game of cards when Cantley, who was somewhat under the influence of liquor, came in. Cantley accosted Fielder, saying he had been told that Fielder had been talking about him and was carrying a gun for him. This Fielder denied. Explanations were made and the matter appeared to be amicably settled, to celebrate which the two adjourned to the bar and took a social drink. The matter seemed to still rankle in Cantley's mind for he suddenly asked Fielder if he had a gun, and telling him that he, Cantley, had one. Fielder answered that that was a queer question to ask. Cantley immediately drew his gun. When the smoke cleared away it was found that Cantley had fired three shots and was dead, with two bullets through his left breast and one through his neck. Fielder had fired five shots and was unhurt, and George Hauser's hair had turned white. At the preliminary examination the evidence showed that Fielder had acted in self defense and he was not held. Both men are well known all over the county. Cantley has held various positions as peace officer for the past ten years and has generally performed the duties of his office satisfactorily. He was about forty years old. He leaves a wife and three or four children.

The LIBERAL is informed that a little democratic scandal, that has been kept quiet for some time, is liable to be aired at the coming term of the district court, in a suit to collect a promissory note. It is said that a prominent democrat, who recently held an office where he handled some public money, kept his cash book in the good old democratic style. When settlement day came he gave one public employe a note for $775, to another a note for $400, to a third household goods to the value of $100 and he turned over to his successor in office in cash the sum of sixteen cents. It is now reported that suit will be brought at the coming term of court to enforce the collection of one of the notes.

Miss Julia Snyder has charge of the Gold Hill school this fall.

Who does not know women and young girls who are continually in tears? Who always see the dark side? Who have frequent fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? But there is a cause. It is to be found by the intelligent physician in some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs of generation. The woman who half understands herself, feels that she cannot always be complaining; she cannot always have the doctor in the house. The young girl suffers, bodily and mentally, in silence. The trouble usually comes so gradually it is attributed to some outside cause. There is undue weariness, unexpected pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper. All these symptoms are simply protests of the silent, long-suffering nerves. The trouble shows in dark circles below the eyes, a downward curve of the mouth, a sallow, brownish-yellow neck.

Unregarded, the trouble grows. A few years of tortured invalidism, probably insanity, before merciful death comes. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the fruit of years of study. It is the product of an investigating mind united with a generous nature. When an intelligent person gives years of study to a subject there must be some good result. The "Favorite Prescription" is a compound of extracts of herbs that makes a strengthening, soothing medicine. It acts directly upon the distinctly feminine organs. It stops drains from lining membranes by healing diseased parts, thereby curing also the inflammation that is always present.

"I was in a critical condition. Often I was in despair. I experienced a great improvement by taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I have taken six bottles, and I am sure that it will cure all my ailments and all diseases of females." Years truly.

A Washington dispatch says: Secretary Morton has issued an order directing that from and after October 22nd cattle may be admitted into the United States from Mexico for grazing and immediate slaughter through the ports of San Diego, Nogales, El Paso, Eagle Pass, Brownsville and the sub port of Laredo.

Last Saturday representative athletes from Yale college and the Cambridge, England, university met in a series of contests at New York. The Englishmen succeeded in winning three out of the eleven events. This is a little above the English average for this year.

"While down in the southwestern part of the state some time ago," says Mr. W. Chalmers, editor of the Chicago, Calif. Enterprise, "I had an attack of dysentery. Having heard of Chamberlain's colic, cholera, and diarrhoea remedy I bought a bottle. A couple of doses completely cured me. Now I am a champion of that remedy for all stomach and bowel complaints." For sale at the Eagle drug store.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 yrs, ought to know what to do, and what he says:

Toledo, O., Jan. 20, 1887. Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions. Yours Truly, L. L. GORSUCH, M. D. Office, 225 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

PATENTS.

Notice to Inventors.

There was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and workshop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtenances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who being on the alert, and ready to preceive the existing deficiencies, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome the existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skillful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said Company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trademarks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives special attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securing foreign patents. Write us for instructions and advice. JOAN WEDDERBURN, 618 F Street, P. O. Box 385. Washington, D. C.
